Preventative Care is Key in Fremont Pediatric Dentistry

Preventative care forms the cornerstone of our practice at Fremont Pediatric Dental. We firmly believe that preventing dental problems before they start is the most effective and least invasive approach to maintaining your child's oral health. Regular dental check-ups, starting from their first tooth, allow us to monitor their dental development, identify potential issues early, and provide timely interventions.
In addition to professional cleanings and fluoride applications, we emphasize educating both children and parents on effective at-home oral hygiene practices. We discuss the importance of limiting sugary snacks and drinks, and guide parents on proper brushing techniques for different age groups. Ultimately, our preventative strategies aim to equip your child with the tools for a lifetime of healthy smiles.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

Q1: What is the recommended age for a child's first dental visit?
A1: The American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry recommends that a child's first dental visit should occur when their first tooth erupts, or no later than their first birthday. This allows us to establish a "dental home" and begin preventative care early.
Q2: How often should my child visit the pediatric dentist?
A2: Generally, children should visit their pediatric dentist every six months for routine check-ups and cleanings. However, based on your child's individual needs and risk factors, we may recommend more frequent visits.

Q3: Are dental sealants really necessary for children?
A3: Dental sealants are highly recommended for children, especially on their molars. They act as a protective barrier against decay by sealing off the deep grooves and pits on the chewing surfaces of teeth where food particles can get trapped.
Q4: How can I help my child overcome dental anxiety?
A4: At Fremont Pediatric Dental, we employ various techniques to ease dental anxiety, including positive reinforcement, child-friendly explanations, and a comforting environment. You can help by discussing the visit positively beforehand and avoiding negative language about dental care.
Q5: What should I do if my child has a dental emergency?
A5: If your child experiences a dental emergency, please contact Fremont Pediatric Dental immediately. We will provide guidance over the phone and schedule an emergency appointment if necessary.
